

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

MAR 12 1974

Dear Bill:

I want to extend my deepest appreciation for the support the Central Intelligence Agency gave us during the preparation of the President's second International Economic Report. Once again, your agency is to be commended for its effective work and quick response during a period of rapidly-changing international economic conditions. Beyond your loan to us of one of the authors of the report, special recognition should be given the Office of Economic Research, the Printing Services Division and the Cartography Division. I have sent letters to those in these components who were most directly involved in preparing the report. They are named in the attached list.

With warmest regards,

Sincerely,
